"We chose Secure-24 because the Secure-24 team treats us with the same high level of detail and attention that we provide to our clients. We could have chosen any number of managed services providers, but none came even close to matching the superior level of service and expertise that Secure-24 delivers. The outcomes have been above our expectations and our business has already profited from such a smooth transition."

– John Evans, President, Evans Distribution Systems.

Evans Distribution Systems Partners with Secure-24 to Deliver Unique Ecommerce Solutions

Founded in 1929, Evans Distribution Systems provides companies a single source solution for warehousing and distribution, transportation, contract packaging, quality inspection, fulfillment, staffing and other logistics-related services.

Evans Distribution Systems has a history of providing integrated logistics solutions in Michigan and throughout the Midwest, dating back to 1929. In 1932, Evans was recognized by local media for its innovation in simplifying the distribution process. The company's customers and services have changed over the years, but its dedication to developing innovative supply chain management solutions remains the same.

Evans Distribution Systems selected Secure-24 based on its comprehensive managed services expertise and scalable, flexible cloud solutions, and for their reputation of superior service. By working together, Evans Distribution and Secure-24 are laying the groundwork for Ecommerce solutions including automated delivery, on demand order fulfillment and international trade requirements.

The new solution provides Evans Distribution with greater cost efficiencies and exceptional audit and compliance capabilities; and has increased performance while freeing up internal teams to focus on core business initiatives.
